DEPARTMENT OF INDUSTRIES AND LABOUR.

Delhi, the 22nd November 1926.

RESOLUTION.

No. A.—637. Under the provision of the Indian Copyright Act, 1914, copyright in Government publications vests in the Crown and any reproduction, without consent of work first published by Government ordinarily constitutes an infringement of copyright. The Government of India consider it desirable that the public should be at liberty to reproduce certain Government publications, and they are pleased to grant general permission to reproduce:—

(a) Any matter which has appeared in the Gazette of India except,
  (i) Acts of the Indian Legislature.
  (ii) Matter not first published by the Government of India;
  (b) Acts of the Indian Legislature, subject to the condition that these are reproduced, together with original material e.g., commentaries;
  (c) Vernacular translations of Acts or bills of the Indian Legislature;
  (d) Reports of any Committee appointed by the Government of India or the Indian Legislature.

2 Permission to reproduce other Government publications will be given in special circumstances. Applications for permission should be forwarded to the Surveyor-General in the case of maps, charts, plans and other documents published by or on behalf of the Survey of India and to the Secretary to the Government of India in the Department of Industries and Labour in all other cases.

3 In the case of works first published by local Government, application for permission to reproduce such works should be made, in the absence of any special orders passed by the local Government, to the local Government concerned.

A. C. MCWATTERS,
5699 Secretary to the Government of India.
